Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, president of Michmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Chief of Police Werner last night ordered the Little Theatre to discontinue the display of a three-reel Kalem film, entitled "The Vampire," which is said to have been the most notorious picture ever shown in Richmond.

Just after he had personally delivered his orders to M. L. Hofhelmer, of the Little Theatre, Chief Werner went to the Victor, at Eighth and Broad, and notified the manager that the reel phould not be shown there again. It developed that it had been at the Victor for three weeks, appearing once a week.

Young Girls Complained.

Early last night Mrs. Randolph was informed by several young girls who went to the Hofheimer theatre in the afternoon that a disgraceful picture was on the program, and that flaming posters at the entrance gave but slight intimation of its true character. The protest was so violent that Mrs. Randolph appealed to Chief Werner, and then went to see for herself. After the performance she bitterly assailed Mr. Hofheimer, telling him that it was an outrage to present such a photoplay.
